

With a view to the developments in the European Union concerning the free trade in products and services between the member states, TÜV UK Ltd is offering its very best in quality services relating to the certification of quality systems and delivering third party inspection service.

Our aim is to achieve an optimum service to meet the requirements and expectations of our customers with regard to the evaluation of quality management systems in accordance with the ISO 9001 (including PAS43 and ISO3834), ISO14001 and ISO18001 series of standards and technical inspection activities including design approval, pressure equipment inspection according to PED and ASME, welding approval, material certification, in-service inspection of pressure equipment (PSSR), lifting equipment (LOLER), and procurement inspection. Following a change regarding Environmental Responsibility and Awareness TUV UK have added a range of Environmental Services dealing with Environmental Policies and Management Systems, Carbon Emission Trading Schemes (e.g. 14064, 14065, PAS2050), Carbon Footprint, EU ETS and verifying of CDM and JI projects under UN Accreditation. TUV UK provides Health & Safety Technical Assistance including risk assessment, NEBOSH and bespoke training courses. TUV UK technical staff are trained according to SAFed requirements and furthermore CCNSG and in many cases NEBOSH qualifications.

TÜV UK Ltd has top management commitment to impartiality and all activities are undertaken impartially. TÜV UK does not allow commercial, financial, personal or other pressures to compromise impartiality. TÜV UK identifies risks to its impartiality on an ongoing basis and regularly audits adherence to its quality management system procedures governing impartiality and reviews the risks to it; this includes risks arising from its activities, relationships, or from the relationships of its personnel.

The Managing Director collects information from all stakeholders (e.g. TÜV NORD, other Shareholders, Members of the Board, Governing Board, Employees, Sub-contractors, Agencies, Clients, Regulatory Authorities, Accreditation Organisations & other relevant professional bodies) with regard to expectations and resources for the following years for example:

- Open and confidential relations with the customer; activities and planning shall be flexible, aiming at short feedback / response time on matters such as questions, program planning, issuing of audit reports and decisions;
- Safety and environmental aspects are items for evaluation in the course of certification on customer's premises.

The Governing Board is established to guarantee the implementation of the policy in so far as it relates to our certification activities.

The Quality Manual describes the management tasks, structure and organisation as well as all quality-safeguarding activities necessary for the certification body in auditing and certifying quality systems and the inspection body in providing third party inspection services. TÜV UK
